Fusion Services complete Phase one

Have just completed the first phase of the complete network infrastructure at Turves Green Boys Humanities college.

Fusion Services was employed by the school to design and implement a whole new network, including cabling and hardware to provide a solution to all there computer problems.

As a school requires up to date technology and multiple logons within a short space of time, there current network began to feel the strain through poor logons and slow speeds. Fusion Services cured these problems by installing two Dell R710 power servers and creating a number of virtual machines. This saves the school money by reducing the power consumed by multiple servers, hardware costs, rack space and pricey air conditioning for cooling of server rooms.

All this adds to moving Turves green Boys Humanities college towards a greener future.

The cabling solution used was Excel as this provides peace of mind backed by there 20 years system performance warranty.
